WHO IS FATHER ROBERT DEGRANDIS?

To understand the significance of the Fr DeGrandis forgiveness prayer, it helps to first know the man behind it. Father Robert DeGrandis, affectionately known as "Fr. DeGrandis," is a Catholic priest of the Diocese of Honolulu. He has been active in the Charismatic Renewal since the 1970s and is widely regarded as a pioneer in the ministry of inner healing. His teachings emphasize that emotional wounds—whether from childhood, relationships, or traumatic events—can be healed through prayer, forgiveness, and the power of the Holy Spirit.

Fr. DeGrandis has authored numerous books and recorded many talks on healing, including his well-known "Forgiveness Prayer." While the prayer itself is simple, its impact is profound because it addresses the root of many emotional and even physical ailments: unforgiveness. The fr degrandis forgiveness prayer is designed to help individuals forgive others, forgive themselves, and receive God's forgiveness in a concrete, heartfelt manner.

WHAT IS THE FR DEGRANDIS FORGIVENESS PRAYER?

The fr degrandis forgiveness prayer is a specific set of petitions that guide the person praying through a process of releasing resentment toward specific people, including oneself and God. Unlike a generic request for help, this prayer is detailed and intentional. It typically includes sections for forgiving those who have hurt you, asking for forgiveness from those you have hurt, forgiving yourself, and forgiving God (for perceived injustices or unanswered prayers).

One of the most distinctive features of this prayer is its emphasis on naming the person you need to forgive aloud and consciously choosing to release them from any debt of hurt. This is not a passive or vague exercise; it is an active decision of the will, supported by God's grace. The fr degrandis forgiveness prayer often includes a phrase like: "I forgive [name] for [specific hurt], and I release them into Your hands." By making forgiveness specific, it prevents the mind from glossing over deep wounds.

The Full Text of the Prayer

While variations exist, the core of the Fr DeGrandis forgiveness prayer is consistent. Here is a representative version that many people use in their daily or weekly prayer time. You can adapt it to your own situation, but the structure remains powerful:

Lord Jesus, I thank You for Your love and for dying for my sins. I ask You to forgive me for my sins, and I also forgive everyone who has ever hurt me.

I forgive my mother for any hurt, rejection, or pain she caused me. I forgive my father for any hurt, rejection, or pain he caused me. I forgive my brothers, sisters, and all family members. I forgive my friends, coworkers, and anyone who has offended me.

I forgive myself for my failures, mistakes, and sins. I forgive my body for any illness or weakness. I forgive my emotions for any turmoil. I forgive my past for any pain.

I forgive God for any disappointment I have felt. I know that God is good and all His ways are perfect. I release all bitterness, anger, and resentment. I ask You, Lord, to bless those I have forgiven. Fill me with Your peace and joy. Amen.

This simple yet profound prayer encapsulates the heart of the fr degrandis forgiveness prayer. It covers the four main directions of forgiveness: forgiving others, forgiving oneself, receiving forgiveness, and forgiving God.

HOW TO PRAY THE FR DEGRANDIS FORGIVENESS PRAYER EFFECTIVELY

Mere recitation of the words is not enough for deep healing. To truly benefit from the fr degrandis forgiveness prayer, consider these practical steps:

Create a Quiet Space

Find a place where you will not be interrupted. Turn off your phone, close the door, and take a few deep breaths. This prayer works best when you can speak aloud without embarrassment. The act of speaking engages your will and your voice, making the forgiveness more real.

Identify Specific People and Hurts

Before you begin the prayer, take a moment to list in your mind—or on paper—the people you need to forgive. The more specific you can be, the better. Instead of saying "I forgive my spouse," say "I forgive my spouse for the critical comment they made yesterday." This specificity is a key element of the fr degrandis forgiveness prayer because it prevents the mind from glossing over real wounds.

Pray Slowly and Deliberately

Do not rush. Say each line of the prayer with intention. Pause after naming a person or hurt. Feel the emotion, and then consciously choose to release it. It can be helpful to imagine handing that person and the hurt over to Jesus. You might even visualize putting the offense into His hands.

Repeat as Needed

Healing is a process. You may need to pray the fr degrandis forgiveness prayer daily for weeks or months for a deep wound. Do not be discouraged if you still feel pain after the first time. Forgiveness is a decision that you reaffirm until your emotions catch up.

Include a Blessing

After forgiving someone, ask God to bless them. This is a radical act of love that seals the forgiveness. In the prayer, you can add: "Lord, I bless [name] and ask You to pour out Your favor on them."

SCRIPTURAL FOUNDATIONS OF THE PRAYER

The fr degrandis forgiveness prayer is deeply rooted in Scripture. Father DeGrandis did not invent a new theology; he simply put into prayer form the teachings of Jesus and the Apostles. Key biblical passages that support this prayer include:

- Matthew 6:14-15 - "For if you forgive other people when they sin against you, your heavenly Father will also forgive you. But if you do not forgive others their sins, your Father will not forgive your sins." This verse underscores the non-negotiable link between our forgiveness of others and God's forgiveness of us.

- Mark 11:25 – "And when you stand praying, if you hold anything against anyone, forgive them, so that your Father in heaven may forgive you your sins."
- Colossians 3:13 – "Bear with each other and forgive one another if any of you has a grievance against someone. Forgive as the Lord forgave you."
- Ephesians 4:31-32 – "Get rid of all bitterness, rage and anger, brawling and slander, along with every form of malice. Be kind and compassionate to one another, forgiving each other, just as in Christ God forgave you."

The fr degrandis forgiveness prayer directly aligns with these passages. It is a practical application of the biblical command to forgive. Father DeGrandis often taught that unforgiveness is like a spiritual poison that blocks God's healing power in our lives. By praying this prayer, we open the door for God's grace to flow freely.

BENEFITS OF PRAYING THE FR DEGRANDIS FORGIVENESS PRAYER

Many people who have incorporated the fr degrandis forgiveness prayer into their spiritual lives report profound changes. While the primary benefit is spiritual—restored relationship with God—there are also emotional, mental, and even physical benefits.

Emotional Healing

Unforgiveness is often at the root of chronic anger, depression, anxiety, and shame. By releasing these burdens through the prayer, many experience a significant lift in their emotional state. They feel lighter, more peaceful, and less reactive to triggers.

Improved Relationships

When we forgive others, we are freed from the need to punish them or hold grudges. This often leads to improved communication and reconciliation. Even if the other person never changes, your attitude toward them shifts, reducing conflict.

Physical Health Benefits

Numerous studies have linked unforgiveness to high blood pressure, weakened immune function, and chronic stress. The act of forgiveness lowers cortisol levels and promotes relaxation. Praying the fr degrandis forgiveness prayer can be a component of a holistic health strategy.

Deepened Faith

As you experience the power of forgiveness in your own life, your trust in God grows. The prayer becomes a testimony to God's faithfulness. Many find that regular use of the fr degrandis forgiveness prayer strengthens their prayer life overall.

COMMON MISCONCEPTIONS ABOUT FORGIVENESS PRAYERS

Some people hesitate to pray the fr degrandis forgiveness prayer because they misunderstand what forgiveness means. Here are a few clarifications:

- Forgiveness is not forgetting. You may still remember the event, but the emotional charge is gone.
- Forgiveness is not condoning. You are not saying that what happened was acceptable. You are releasing your right to revenge.
- Forgiveness does not require reconciliation. If the other person is abusive or unrepentant, you can forgive them from a distance and still maintain healthy boundaries.
- Forgiveness is a process. One prayer may not instantly heal decades of pain. Be patient with yourself.

Father DeGrandis himself emphasized that the prayer is a beginning, not an end. It sets the direction of the heart, and then the Holy Spirit continues the work.

Thousands of people have shared stories of how the fr degrandis forgiveness prayer changed their lives. One woman wrote that she had been estranged from her mother for twenty years. While individual results vary, the consistent theme is that the prayer unlocks a grace that is otherwise blocked by resentment.

INTEGRATING THE PRAYER INTO YOUR DAILY ROUTINE

Some use it as part of their examination of conscience before receiving the sacrament of Confession. Others include it in their regular prayer journal. The key is consistency.
