COMPLETE LIST OF NICHOLAS SPARKS NOVELS BY PUBLICATION YEAR

This List Of Nicholas Sparks Novels begins with his groundbreaking debut and continues through his most recent works. Each entry includes the title, publication year, and a short synopsis to give you a sense of the story’s heart.

1. The Notebook (1996)

Sparks’ debut novel remains his most iconic. It tells the story of Noah Calhoun and Allie Nelson, a couple separated by class and circumstance, who reunite decades later. The novel is framed by an elderly man reading their love story to a woman suffering from dementia—a poignant exploration of memory and enduring devotion.

2. Message in a Bottle (1998)

A grieving father, Garrett, writes love letters to his deceased wife and sets them adrift in bottles. When a divorced journalist, Theresa, discovers one, she seeks him out, leading to a second chance at love that is both hopeful and tragic.

3. A Walk to Remember (1999)

Set in 1958 North Carolina, this novel follows rebellious Landon Carter and quiet, devout Jamie Sullivan. Their unlikely romance is tested by a devastating secret. This story of faith, transformation, and loss has become a classic coming-of-age love tale.

4. The Rescue (2000)

Firefighter Taylor McAden rescues single mother Denise Holden from a car accident. As they grow close, Taylor must confront his deep-seated fear of emotional vulnerability—a theme that runs through many of Sparks' male protagonists.

5. A Bend in the Road (2001)

Sheriff Miles Ryan is still reeling from his wife's hit-and-run death two years earlier. He falls for Sarah Andrews, a woman with her own painful past, but the investigation into the accident threatens to tear them apart.

6. Nights in Rodanthe (2002)

Two middle-aged strangers, Adrienne and Paul, find refuge in a small inn during a storm. Their brief but intense weekend romance forces them to confront their pasts and reconsider what they truly want from life.

7. The Guardian (2003)

A departure from pure romance, this novel blends love story with suspense. Julie Barenson inherits a Great Dane named Singer after her husband's death. Years later, she begins dating two men—one kind and one dangerously obsessive. Sparks weaves a thriller-like narrative with emotional depth.

8. The Wedding (2003)

A sequel to The Notebook, this novel follows Noah and Allie's daughter, Jane, and her husband, Wilson. Wilson must find a way to rekindle his marriage after years of neglect, learning from Noah's example of everlasting devotion.

9. Three Weeks with My Brother (2004)

Written as a memoir with his brother Micah, this nonfiction work details the Sparks brothers' three-week global trip while interweaving personal stories of family, loss, and resilience. It offers deep insight into the author's own life and inspirations.

10. True Believer (2005)

Jeremy Marsh, a skeptical journalist, travels to a small town to investigate strange lights in a cemetery. There he meets Lexie Darnell, a local librarian, and discovers that love can defy logic. This is the first book in a duology.

11. At First Sight (2006)

The sequel to True Believer continues Jeremy and Lexie's story as they prepare for their wedding and the birth of their child. Past secrets and insecurities threaten their happiness, testing their commitment.

12. Dear John (2006)

John Tyree, a soldier on leave, falls passionately in love with Savannah Curtis. Their relationship is strained by his deployment and life-changing events after 9/11. A story of duty, sacrifice, and the painful choices love requires.

13. The Choice (2007)

Travis Parker, a carefree veterinarian, lives next door to Gabby Holland, a serious medical resident. An unlikely spark ignites, but a tragic accident forces them to make an impossible choice that will define their lives. Later adapted into a film.

14. The Lucky One (2008)

U.S. Marine Logan Thibault finds a photograph of a woman during his third tour in Iraq. Convinced it is his lucky charm, he walks across the country after his service to find her. The novel explores fate, signs, and the risks we take for love.

15. The Last Song (2009)

Rebellious teenager Ronnie Miller is sent to spend the summer with her estranged father in a small beach town. There she falls for local heartthrob Will Blakelee and begins to heal family wounds. This story was adapted into a film starring Miley Cyrus.

16. Safe Haven (2010)

Katie, a mysterious young woman with a violent past, arrives in Southport, North Carolina. She starts a new life and falls for widower Alex. But her abusive husband is hunting her down, turning this romance into a taut thriller.

17. The Best of Me (2011)

Former high school sweethearts Dawson and Amanda reunite after twenty years to bury a mutual friend. The novel alternates between their past romance and present-day reunion, confronting old wounds and the possibility of a second chance.

18. The Longest Ride (2013)

Two parallel love stories unfold: one between aging rancher Ira and his late wife Ruth, told through letters, and another between college student Sophia and bull rider Luke. The narratives converge in unexpected, touching ways.

19. See Me (2015)

Colin Hancock, a man with a reformed criminal past, meets Maria Sanchez, a driven lawyer. As their relationship deepens, a threatening figure from Colin's past emerges, forcing them to fight for their future.

20. Two by Two (2016)

Russell Green, a devoted husband and father, sees his perfect life crumble after his wife asks for a divorce. The novel focuses on his journey as a single parent raising his young daughter, exploring unconditional love beyond romance.

21. Every Breath (2018)

Tru Wall, born in Africa to an American father, travels to Sunset Beach, North Carolina, to claim his inheritance. There he meets Hope Anderson, a woman at a crossroads. Their brief, profound encounter echoes the themes of fate and timeless love.

22. The Return (2020)

Trevor Benson, a former Army medic, inherits his grandfather's beekeeping property in North Carolina. He forms bonds with a local sheriff's deputy and a troubled teenage girl, uncovering secrets from the past while healing his own wounds.

SPARKS NOVELS

23. The Wish (2021)

Maggie Dawes, a successful photographer, recounts a life-changing romance from her teenage years to a young assistant. Set partly in 1990s North Carolina, the novel explores the enduring power of first love and the roads we don't take.

24. Dreamland (2022)

This novel weaves together two narratives: one about a young couple, Colby and Morgan, dreaming of a life together, and another about a mother, Beverly, fleeing an abusive relationship. Their stories gradually converge in surprising ways, highlighting the lengths we go to protect those we love.

25. Counting Miracles (2024)

Sparks' latest novel (as of this writing) follows Tanner, a former Navy SEAL turned wilderness guide, and Kaitlyn, a trauma surgeon dealing with her own past. Set in the mountains of North Carolina, it blends romance with suspense and the healing power of nature.
